

France

French citizens sometimes are called the frogs

It's used in a joking way by the British and Americans, referring to French people eating frog's legs.

It's not hugely offensive, but that being said, we shouldn't use the term in polite conversation. An elderly or very "proper" and proud French person could take offence at the use of a mildly disparaging term like this.

The French flag

The French flag contains from three colors: blue, white and red.

The colors symbolize nobility (blue), clergy (white), and bourgeois (red), which were the estates of the old regime in France.

The capital of France

Paris is the capital of France. It's located in the north-central part of the country. One of the most popular attractions in Paris are The Eiffel Tower and Louvre Museum.

The president of France

Emmanuel Macron is the president of France.

Macron topped the ballot in the first round of voting, and was elected President of France on 7 May 2017. At the age of 39, Macron became the youngest president in French history.

The French cuisine

Baugettes are common in France.

A surprising fact is that there are three types of baguettes: the regular baguette, the baguette moulée, and the baguette farinée. Though similar in taste, the key difference lies in the way they are baked. A regular baguette is the typical golden-brown French bread you most often encounter.

The symbol of France

Gallic Rooster is the symbol of France.

During the First World War, surging patriotic sentiment made the Gallic rooster the symbol of France's resistance and bravery.

The typical dish of the Vosges:

The Vosges are a range of low mountains in Eastern France, near its border with Germany.

The most recognizable dish for Vosges is sauerkraut.

The name of the French national anthem

La Marseillaise is the national anthem of France.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PIQSEq6tEVs>

Allons enfants de la patrie,

Le jour de gloire est arrivé!

Contre nous de la tyrannie,

L'étendard sanglant est levé,

L'étendard sanglant est levé,

Entendez-vous dans les campagnes,

Mugir ces féroces soldats?

Ils viennent jusque dans vos bras

Égorger vos fils, vos compagnes!

Aux armes, citoyens,

Formez vos bataillons,

Marchons, marchons!

Qu'un sang impur

Abreuve nos sillons!

The differences between the French countryside and the major French cities:

The people, the landscape and the traditions.

Do French people eat every day baguette, cheese and croissants?

NO, BECAUSE
EVERYBODY
DOESN'T EAT
THE SAME THINGS!

The French car brands:

RENAULT

CITROËN

The first king of France:

Clovis 1st

How many cows are there in France?

3 500 000

The President of France in 1959 was:

Charles de Gaulle

The most famous monument in France:

The Eiffel
Tower

The river crossing Paris:

The Seine

The French name for middle school:

Collège

The element that isn't associated with French clichés:

Pizza

Gendarmes:

Gendarmes – military police established to maintain internal order and military discipline as well as public safety in the army. In Saint Tropez they are known as a celebrities.

Nancy's Bergamotte

- ▶ Nancy's Bergamotte is a candy with a unique taste. This translucent square sweet has a yellow amber colour, is slightly tart and is flavoured with bergamot orange essential oil.

Joan of Arc

- Joan of Arc, nicknamed „The Maid of Orléans” was born in Domrémy-La-Pucelle and died at the stake in Rouen.

The peak of Canigou

- ▶ The peak of Canigou (the summit of Pyrenean) has the same name as one company of dog food!

Festival in Deauville

- In Deauville every year there is an American film festival since 1975.

The Iron lady:

- People are calling the Eiffel Tower the Iron lady.

The sea that is on the French coast:

➤ the Mediterranean Sea

Is the French people's mentality the same everywhere in France?

➡ No, it isn't!

The three most touristic cities in France:

➔ Paris, Lyon, Lourdes

When was the Eiffel Tower built?

➡ In 1887

Who is buried under the Triumphal arc?

The unknown soldier

The favorite sport of French people:

➡ Football

Thank you for your attention!

The Primary School in Śmigiel

